

FEBRUARY Live Music at Saluda Outfitters and Green River Eddy's Tap Room & Grill

Friday, Feb. 3, 7-10 p.m. | The Water Kickers of Columbia, S.C. are a Carolina-based folk/rock duo consisting of Brodie and Kelley Porterfield. The duo combines intricate harmonies, heartfelt and emotional narratives, subtle rhythms, and sophisticated picking, making their music relatable, engaging, and sure to sway your hearts and bodies. Check out their latest single on Spotify, "Winter Alone."

Saturday, Feb. 4, 7-10 p.m. | The Marc Higgins Duo of Spartanburg, S.C., consists of musician Marc Higgins who will be joined by Stephen Cantrell on guitar and vocals. Marc offers a rootsy style of songwriting that's akin to a contemporary, Southern version of The Replacements. He also leads the Marc Higgins and The Chainsaw Bears band. Stylistically, he churns out the kind of roots-flavored rock 'n' roll that has made him a fixture on the South Carolina Upstate's music scene for nearly two decades.

Friday, Feb. 10, 7-10 p.m. | Admiral Radio, a duo from Columbia, S.C. consists of Becca Smith and Coty Hoover. The band name came from a family connection to the one time top producer of radios. This duo has created a timeless style and classic sound that speaks for itself. In an age where adding mechanized bells and whistles are the norm, Admiral Radio opts for a more natural feel by getting back to the basics of good songwriting and music with heart.

Saturday, Feb. 11, 7-10 p.m. | The Reedy River Band, a bluegrass band hailing from Greenville, S.C., returns to liven up the music loving crowd with some foot-stompin' music in three-part harmony! The band brings an original take on Appalachian roots music with an engaging mix of original and cover songs. Band members are Mark Dye, upright bass and vocals; Sterling Waite, fiddle, mandolin, harmonica, and vocals; and Rush Morgan, guitar and vocals

Friday, Feb. 17, 7-10 p.m. | The Jeff Edwards Duo of Boiling Springs consists of Jeff Edwards on acoustic guitar and Doug Maenhoudt on low volume drums. The Jeff Edwards Duo is the Carolina music scene's secret weapon; a scrappy rock duo nestled in foothills of the Appalachian Mountains. Fusing acoustic and alternative influences, the act's signature sound evokes the best elements of classic and alternative rock: driving rhythms, soaring vocals, catchy hooks, and absolutely incendiary guitar. The duo has an engaging set list consisting of classic rock and 90's, covering staple rock artists like Tom Petty, Neil Young, The Rolling Stones, the Cure, and more.

Saturday, Feb. 18, 7-10 p.m. | The Laurel Mountain Duo is the mother/son duo of Jane Mayer of Saluda and Luke Willis of Greenville. As a duo, they have been making music together for more than a decade. Their harmonies are tight and their chemistry on stage is unique and fun. They play a wide variety of feel-good music from four decades; everything from Carole King to Dolly Parton and Ed Sheeran.

Friday, Feb. 24, 7-10 p.m. | Seth & Sara Brand of Asheville are a husband/wife duo that has traveled the U.S. and Canada sharing their covers and originals. Their live performance boasts a night of "fun, humor with a rootsy kind of edge" as Seth shares his original music and excellent covers. An Americana rock/pop/country songwriter, Seth is winner of three Indi.com original songwriter awards. The couple's music brings mesmerizing vocals and heartfelt lyrics that hold the audience attention.

Saturday, Feb. 25, 7-10 p.m. | The Grayson Downs Duo of Spartanburg, S.C., will rock the stage with some outstanding country music. Grayson Downs is a Nashville award-winning singer/songwriter and lead vocalist for a four-piece county band. He will share the stage at Saluda Outfitters with his bands lead guitarist Andrew McClure, who also sings background in the full band. Grayson's latest release is "Bleach Blonde" and can be heard on all social media outlets.
